

Are You Ready for Banking on Innovation?

Please rate the following statements on a scale of 1-10 (10 being highest) for how much you agree with them. If you score less than 75, please reconsider whether this creative thinking training is for you.

1. I am willing to be an active participant in a hands-on training that will help me become a breakthrough thinker.
2. I am willing to challenge my own (and others) limiting assumptions.
3. I am willing to challenge the status quo in my organization.
4. My company needs to think of new ways of doing business.
5. I am willing to brainstorm my business challenges with others, even if they are from a different department or job function
6. I am attending this training of my own free will.
7. I am interested in learning new creative thinking tools and techniques – and will try some of them on the job.
8. I am committed to pitching my new ideas to my manager.
9. I am willing to stop blaming my organization and begin taking more personal responsibility for creating a culture of innovation.
